Protect Your People & Your Assets

Social Intelligence, When it Matters Most

Navigator is a user-driven open source intelligence platform that allows you to identify online conversations that threaten your employees, assets or interests. Navigator proactively notifies you of the threats and helps preserve confidential corporate information.

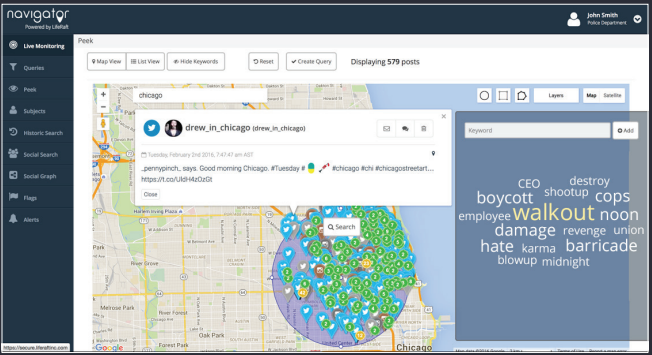

Situational Awareness, When You Need it Most

By gathering intelligence from open source channels, you can better understand the tone of online discussions and eliminate being surprised by emerging events.

Navigator can assist your organization with monitoring digital commentary for unacceptable content, fraud prevention, industry protests and situational awareness for major corporate events.
